A TIMELESS OVERTURE

In the annals of piano craftsmanship, 1996 marked a pivotal moment. Jean-Claude Haefliger, joined by Hanna Prach, Milan & Miro Tuachmann, breathed renewed life into the venerable Burger & Jacobi Piano factory, whose heritage traced back to 1872. Their aspiration was no ordinary one; it was to craft an instrument that would harmonize tradition with innovation.

Years of relentless pursuit of perfection culminated in the creation of Wilhelm Tell pianos—an embodiment of unrivaled craftsmanship and a harmonious muse for virtuosi.

Each Wilhelm Tell piano is an opus of meticulous artistry, fashioned with the most exquisite materials and orchestrated under the vigilant gaze of master piano makers. This symphony of precision results in an instrument that transcends utility, gracing the world's finest stages and salons.

Today, Wilhelm Tell pianos continue their cadence of excellence, upholding the legacy of Swiss craftsmanship. They are not just instruments; they are a sonorous testament to dedication, setting the stage for the connoisseurs of life to create their own opus of distinction.
